PONZI SAYS ALLEN TRIED TO TRADE WITH HIM

WIZARD SAYS HE IS 'VICTIM OF POLITICS'

Declares He Rejected Short Jail Term "Offer" if He Would Plead Guilty

Attorney-General Allen is preparing to have Charles Ponzi tried on the remaining ten indictments against him, and at the trial Allen will make a demand that the jury be confined as at murder trials. This was reported today from a reliable source at the Court House.

Charles Ponzi, so-called "Wizard of Finance," in a statement issued from the Plymouth Jail, taken sharp issue with Attorney-General J. Weston Allen and claims that Judge Frederick Woodbury Fossick of the Superior Court, who presided at his recent trial, can corroborate him and his wife that Mr. Allen tried to make a trade with him and induce him to plead guilty.

Ponzi asserts that the proposition for him to plead guilty and accept a sentence of two and one-half years, with the understanding that the cases against the agents would be dropped, was communicated to Judge Fossick at the time.

PONZI'S REPLY TO ALLEN. This is the first time Ponzi has joined the controversy resulting from his acquittal by a jury after a trial that lasted six weeks in the State courts.

Ponzi charges Attorney General Allen with inducing him "for political purposes." He thanks Judge Fossick and the jury for their impartiality and for "their refusal to be terrified by the attorney-general and his assistants."

The statement was typewritten. It bore Ponzi's signature. It is dated "Plymouth, Dec. 3, 1922."

It reads as follows: "Apparently Mr. Allen cares nothing for the truth in his desire to work up public sentiment against me. Not satisfied with the absurd trial of me while a United States prisoner."

FIN. COM. APPEALS TO COURT

Demands Councillor Lane Be Forced to Tell of "Bribe" Informant

Chairman Michael H. Sullivan of the Finance Commission, accompanied by Attorney John C. L. Dowling, today presented a petition to the Supreme Court asking that Councillor Daniel W. Lane be compelled to divulge the name of the man who told him other councillors had been paid $5,000 for their votes on the Province street widening.

A hearing on the petition has been set for Friday morning, at which time Lane will be summoned to appear before the Supreme Court. The petition of the commission, a lengthy article, sets forth the powers of the commission and demands that the authority for the compelling of testimony.

A hint that others may be involved in "graft deals" was given by Attorney John C. L. Dowling, counsel for the Finance Commission. The commission, now engaged in investigating irregularities in connection with the payment of $10,000 by the Congregation Beth Israel to get the city to buy their Baldwin place property, is understood to have uncovered evidence of startling nature pertaining to other real estate projects.

Partial confirmation of this report was given by Mr. Dowling, who said: "This case has developed far more sensationally than we had expected and testimony offered today indicates that the commission will have to conduct some searching investigations."

Furthermore, Mr. Dowling intimated that the other officials whose names have been connected with this new information are men of prominence and hitherto unsuspected.

The commission is determined to push its investigation to the limit. Relative to this the attorney said: "We will do our duty, no matter where the ends may lead or who is hit."

The testimony of Lane, that the four councillors were to be paid for their votes after "word was received from the Mayor's office," came like a bombshell into the hearing which continued on Page 2, Column 3.

"UNKNOWN, DEAD"
"Any day you may read that, or 'Unknown Man Dead,' in any newspaper, it rarely occurs to us that everybody is 'unknown' once he is dead. We are 'known' by our names, property, street address, families. All that falls away when you go into the coffin. What will you meet on the other side? Who will know your name there—what you were or what you had? Will you even know your own name? If you regain consciousness, will you say to yourself: 'I wonder what, who and where I was before?' That's what we say in this announcement. You remember Thomas Bailey Aldrich's lines: Somewhere—in desolate windswept space—in twilight—in no-man's land—Two hurrying shapes met face to face, And bade each other stand. 'And who are you?' cried one, again, Shuddering in the gleaming light. 'I know not,' said the second shape. 'I only died last night.'"

GEORGE HARVEY went to Europe a laughing boy. Now he is as gloomy as a Cretan bug moved from the kitchen sink to a field of daisies. Harvey says Europe faces the worst outlook in history, unless something good comes of the coming meeting of premier. Harvey does not see "how Europe can live another year."

CONDITIONS THERE are bad. But they had to be bad. Nothing but frightfully bad conditions would do Europe any good. A man getting drunk, and eating lobster salad every night, must have a headache and a stomach ache both before he will give up the drunkenness and lobster. Europe has got to have a headache and a stomach ache before it will give up war.

BUT CONDITIONS are not the worst they have ever been. They are not as bad as when the Black plague killed more than half of all the people in Europe. Not as bad in France as when it was necessary to pass a law to keep peasants from eating human bodies dead of the plague.

EUROPEAN CONDITIONS are not as bad as they were in England when the die, starving workmen that wandered from his parish, without permission, to find work elsewhere, was branded with a red hot iron; not as bad as when in England the city government, lord of the master, bishop and king each had a separate gallows, and merchants bringing presents of fish and game waited on their knees at the doors of Parliament to beg relief from too many hangings.

CONDITIONS ARE not as bad for Europe as when Attila came marching with his hordes, bragging that the grass never grew again where his horse had put its foot. Conditions have been worse in Europe than at present for centuries at a time. Europe, having gotten over Continued on Page 4, Column 5.

MRS. GRON "FLED FROM HUSBAND'S ABUSE" TOOK HER SON AND CHANGED NAME

"I'll Never Look at You Again!" She Told Him at Parting

Portland, Me., Dec. 6.—Dramatic description of the circumstances under which Mrs. Madeleine Masters Gron left her husband "determining never to defile my eyes by looking at him again," was the feature of this morning's session of the Superior Divorce Court.

Her aristocratic voice tremulous with emotion, Mrs. Gron told of her husband's amazing charges of improper conduct between herself and her seven-year-old son, which brought about the final break with her Danish diplomat husband.

Nelle Gron's massive face was like a death-gray mask as he listened to his wife's account of the final scene in their luxurious home on Madison avenue, New York.

"I put up my arm to shield my head from the torrent of filthy abuse which he poured upon me," said Mrs. Gron, choking with unshed tears. "I said, 'I'll never look at you again as long as I live. Your mind is so diseased that you interpret everything you see in terms of wickedness and hideous perversion.'"

"I made up my mind I could never touch or look at him again," said the beautiful society couple with a sob. She then told how she had fled with her little son to Portland where she had hidden with him under the name of Mrs. Green. She declared that she lived in daily terror that her husband would locate them and kidnap her little boy as he had once before.

SAYS BOY TRIED SUICIDE. Gron charged that the lad was an unhappy away from his father; that he tried to commit suicide by leaping from a third-story window shortly after his mother brought him here.

Mrs. Gron testified that her boy had repeated a conversation he had with his father on the subject of suicide. Judge Laurin Sanders may call the child, who is now nine years old and an invalid, to court to tell of the episode himself.

Not only her own morals, but the morals of her two children for her first marriage, were attacked by Gron in the "moral cruelty" charged by Mrs. Gron against her husband. Gron's son, who is now a Sunday school teacher, will take the stand this afternoon and tell what Mrs. Gron admitted to him regarding her son's conduct in India, when he "had another soldier's wife for a mistress."

Mrs. Gron testified today that her husband misinterpreted portions of her son's letters in which he told of

"I took it merely as a boy's escapade, but Gron insisted that it was something more than that. He told all of my friends and worried me so much that I was ill."

Rev. Charles Livingston, pastor of the Caroline Church at Seabrook, Long Island, where Mrs. Gron was once a Sunday school teacher, will take the stand this afternoon and tell what Mrs. Gron admitted to him regarding her son's conduct in India, when he "had another soldier's wife for a mistress."

TOOK GERMICIDE TREASURY BUDGET FOR HER COUGH CUT $3,725,000

Washington, Dec. 6.—(By International News Service.)—The administration policy of "Save Until It Hurts" was emphasized with a report from the House Appropriations Committee on the Treasury Department Supply Bill for the fiscal year 1923-24, the first of the new appropriation measure to make its appearance. The bill carries a total of $14,119,116, which is $3,725,000 less than the Treasury appropriation for the current fiscal year and $2,713,000 less than the amount asked by President Harding in transmitting the budget.

Representative Magee, of New York, asked if the Commissioner "did not realize there is a widespread discontent, defiance and violation of the law?" "That is true of all law," replied Mr. Haynes, adding that a subcommittee of the American Bar Association had made a statement that disapproved of all law as a "moral failure." GALLAGHER ATTACKS HAYNES

Clashes With the Prohibition Chief on Report of "Dry" Activities

Washington, Dec. 6.—The crisis in the Federal prohibition enforcement fight has been reached, in the opinion of Commissioner Haynes. It was disclosed today in reports of recent hearings before a House appropriation sub-committee. In asking $3,000,000 for the next fiscal year for his department, Mr. Haynes told the committee that if similar amount was allowed for prohibition enforcement continuously for five or six years, a reduction then ought to be possible, but that the critical period for enforcement was now at hand.

The prohibition Commissioner told the committee that he was "railroaded" with the present functioning of his enforcement machinery and that the department was obtaining "fine cooperation" from States and counties in the main. Courts were becoming "more sympathetic" to the law, and jail sentences and fines were becoming heavier.

TIGHTENING UP. There is a general disposition to tighten up, he added. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, he said there were 25,463 convictions in Federal courts for violations of the prohibition law.

Aquittals numbered 4,825, cases dropped 3,217, and civil cases disposed of 546. At the end of the year, he said, 19,910 cases were pending in Federal courts, bringing the total of cases handled to 45,778. Mr. Haynes asked for $100,000 for "training evidence," and told the committee $115,000 had been spent in that way during the last year.

GUILLED BY GULLAVAN. The prohibition Commissioner underwent a long examination at the hands of Representative Gallivan, of Massachusetts, who inquired particularly about the method of handling the department's publicity.

Mr. Gallivan referred, among other things, to what he termed the "wildly extravagant" statements he had emanated from the bureau, one with having asserted that 20,000,000 Americans had "gone on the water wagon" since the enactment of the Volstead Act. Mr. Haynes denied knowledge of the statement.

Mr. Haynes told the committee there had been a "splendid reaction" by the public toward his department's work and immediately clashed with Mr. Gallivan over the work of the electioneering November 7 the Massachusetts representative citing the voting down in his State of an enforcement measure, and the commissioner asserting that prohibition had won where "conditions were normal."

In reply to Mr. Gallivan, Mr. Haynes added incidentally that under the narcotic law during the last fiscal year, but attributed the "increased offenders" of the narcotic division, and not to the prohibition law.

DEFIANCE OF ALL LAWS. Representative Magee, of New York, asked if the Commissioner "did not realize there is a widespread discontent, defiance and violation of the law?"

That is true of all law," replied Mr. Haynes, adding that a subcommittee of the American Bar Association had made a statement that disapproved of all law as a "moral failure." "There is a widespread defiance, defiance and violation of the law," replied Mr. Haynes, adding that a subcommittee of the American Bar Association had made a statement that disapproved of all law as a "moral failure."

Beware of Women Pickpockets, Warns Crowley

Don't carry bags dangling on your arm. It is not only ill bred, but it is one of the don'ts issued today by Michael H. Crowley, superintendent of police, in anticipation of the usual holiday activity on the part of pickpockets. Other warnings are:

Look out for women as well as men pickpockets. Two well-dressed young women, apparently highly respectable, have been keeping the police on the jump by extensive "dipping" activities.

Don't carry bags dangling on your arm. Don't fail to about if you see a pickpocket at work.

Don't push anyone out of your path. It may give a pickpocket an opportunity.

Don't fail to exercise extreme caution in crowds in stores and subways.

Don't mix with a crowd when it is unnecessary.

Police Search for Cache of Stolen Goods at Nantasket

Four dapper youths are being held at Lagrange street police station as suspicious persons in connection with daring daylight thefts from automobiles totaling upwards of $15,000 in the wholesale business district.

Furthermore, a squad of police sped to Nantasket Beach and there searched diligently for a "thief's" clearing house where the major portion of the loot is believed cached awaiting shipment to "fence" in distant parts of the country.

The quartet were apprehended on Kingston street today by Special Officers Murphy and Sullivan.

Their attention was attracted to a big touring car that whirled around from Summer street and stopped in the center of Kingston street.

Three jumped out and the officers saw what appeared to be a machine parked nearby. The fourth sat at the wheel in the first car.

One hastened toward the car hanging a heavy sample case as another ran from a second automobile with a fur robe. The third was empty handed.

Murphy and Sullivan jumped from behind another car and "collared" the four and made them drive to the station, where Captain Herbert Carey recognized at least one as a man having been under suspicion for some time. They gave fictitious names, he said.

HOW ROBBERY WORKED. Wholesalers and salemen have been complaining that a gang of youths, always armed in fashionable cut clothes, has been scouring the district in a machine and have been carrying off silk and leather sample cases and anything of value left in machines.

In certain instances motorists have lost spare tires which were strapped to the rear of their cars.

The boldness of the larcenies may be better appreciated by the statement of Captain Goodwin that all have been committed in daylight, during business hours and on streets that are almost always crowded during those hours.

AIRPLANE HUNT FOR CLARA PHILLIPS, 'HAMMER' SLAYER

HUSBAND IS GRILLED IN ESCAPE OF PRISONER

Calverton, Cal., Dec. 6.—Chief of Police J. B. Hardwick recommissioned the Mexican border near here today from the observer's seat of an airplane in an effort to frustrate any attempt by Mrs. Phillips to escape Mexico.

An airplane is being held in readiness by immigration authorities to pursue any strange aircraft heading for Mexico.

Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—Hunted by every official in Southern California and Federal authorities along the Mexican border, Clara Phillips, convicted "hammer murderer" of Alameda Meadows, who escaped from the county jail by sawing the bars of her cell, was still the "edgema woman" today.

Under Sheriff Eugene Biscaillet, the wife of a prominent Los Angeles attorney, was held in the county jail today.

Boylston (former Mayor).

But this year's expected deficit by further reductions in expenditures, he said. There are possibilities of economies in respect for the treasury in the collection of back taxes and increasing customs collection.

Need for lifting of immigration restrictions was emphasized by Secretary Mellon.

THE TROUBLE is that science, with its power of killing, quick transportation, wireless, and all the rest, has grown too rapidly, while human conscience and common sense have grown too slowly.

MR. FRANK MUNSEY, whose roving eagle eye sees things escape, has discovered a Bolshevik conspiracy. They are over here corrupting our young manhood, maidhood and old age with their vicious Soviet teachings.

Mr. Munsey says something ought to be done about it, and he's right. One concluding fact, perhaps, he hasn't noticed. The Bolsheviks, like a snake in the grass, a canker in the bud, or a ramped rose leaf in the garden, are undermining our pure democracy—in which a man with a hundred millions is at least a hundred million times as good as the man without any dollar.

Star to Marry

Polka Negri, the Polish film star, will become the wife of Charlie Chaplin in January. The match has been sanctified by the Famous Players Company, which brought Miss Negri to this country two months ago.

The contract of the future Mrs. Chaplin includes a clause that she shall not marry without consent of the Famous Players Company.

At the time it was said her employers would take out license against her marrying.

A NEW ENGLAND INSTITUTION

Frank Ferdinand established this business in 1869 and is still the active head of the organization.

Mr. Ferdinand was born in Portland, Me., spent his early boyhood days in South Boston, and was educated in the schools of Boston. This early New England training was the foundation of sound business methods which have made possible, from the modest beginning as pictured above, the present largest complete home furnishing store in New England.

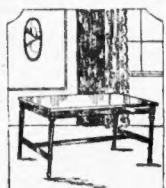

Mr. Ferdinand's motto has always been the Highest Quality of Merchandise at the Lowest Possible Prices.

The prospective customer at Ferdinand's will always find:

1st. The largest selection of merchandise at a price to fit every purse.

2nd. The co-operative spirit, the courteous treatment and the real service which insures entire satisfaction.

UNCLE FLAYED FOR REMOVAL "BLACKEN" GORDON GIRL'S NAME

HEIRRESS FACED BY ORDAL

Dr. Coriat Ready to Examine Her for Sanity at McLean Hospital

The next outstanding development in the Dorothy Gordon guardianship litigation will be the report of Dr. Isidor Coriat, Beck Bay alienist, who has been appointed by the Supreme Court to examine the heiress as to her sanity at McLean Asylum.

One of Dr. Coriat's chief duties will be to determine whether or not Dorothy is well enough to be brought into court when the habeas corpus proceedings are resumed before Judge Bailey in Supreme Court on December 15.

Dr. Coriat will visit Dorothy Gordon at the asylum later this week. It is thought and may have to make several visits.

TO KILL ON MRS. HUGHES. John John Leggett in Middlesex Probate Court has taken under review the question of the relationship to Dorothy of Mrs. Catherine E. Hughes of Jamaica Plain, who has moved to become a party to the case.

Attorney John L. Sheehan, counsel for Dorothy's uncle, John D. Gardner of Baldwin, L. I., charged Mrs. Hughes with an eleven-hour attempt to establish her status as presumptive with the hope that she may some day share in the estate of the twenty-two-year-old heiress.

GARDNER DENOUNCED. Attorney Robert G. Dodge, counsel for Mrs. Hughes, vigorously denied in his arguments to the court that Mrs. Hughes is looking forward to obtaining part of Dorothy's estate. "Mrs. Hughes only wants to protect the estate of this little girl," said Attorney Dodge, "and protect her reputation from being blasted."

Attorney Dodge then bitterly attacked John D. Gardner, Dorothy's uncle. "This man is a most dishonest man," said he. "He is the man who now better than anyone else this country is the legal child of P. J. Jordan and Elizabeth Gardner. In order to keep Mrs. Hughes out of the case he is willing to name a son who and accuse him and slanders and someone else whose name is now unknown."

VILL NAMED DOROTHY. Attorney Dodge offered as exhibit in the hearing in Middlesex Probate Court the will of Frederick Davidson Jordan, late head of the Gordon Realty Company, in which the testator referred to Dorothy as his daughter and to Mrs. Catherine E. Hughes as his sister.

The will, dated March 5, 1914, bequeathed 5,000 shares of Gordon Supply Company stock to Dorothy, under the second Mrs. Gordon, who share "to my sister, Catherine E. Hughes" and "the residue of my property to my daughter Dorothy."

Attorney Dodge also introduced a provision of John D. Gardner to be appointed Dorothy's guardian and called attention to the fact that Jordan, under each before a Justice of the Peace, stated that Dorothy was the child of Frederick Davidson Jordan and Elizabeth Gardner.

QUEST PRINCIPAL WHO WOULDN'T WHIP PUPILS

Fred H. Baldwin, principal of Horace Mann grammar school in Newton, and the idol of his pupils and their parents since he took up his duties last September, has been "fired" by the Newton school committee.

According to his friends, the dismissal cannot be as bad as they are "painted," for the costume which Miss Greeley wears couldn't be called anything but proper by even the most fastidious of imaginations. It's a very pretty piece of charming, and Miss Greeley made a charming picture in it as she walked about the Boardwalk selling "Fluffy Fluffy" dolls.

Miss Greeley—she is the daughter of the Norman Frost Greeleys of the famous of Jonathan Brown, Jr., of Bay State road. Last Summer Miss Greeley spent quite a little time at the North Shore home of the Browns.

THERE'S such a world of wickedness implied by the name Gertrude—that is rather naughtily ruminative show of her name—that I was somewhat surprised to hear that Miss Katherine Greeley of Beacon street, who was wearing a costume copied from the Paris Police Bazaar.

WATSON CALLS EDISON CO. ROBBERS

Councillor James A. Watson attacked the Edison Electric Illuminating Company in a speech delivered at Fenwick square today, declaring that the people were being obliged to pay President Edgar a salary greater than that received by the President of the United States, and to pay the real expenses of the company, amounting to more than $500,000 annually.

The Edison Company officials have corrupted the Legislature for years, but their failure to corrupt the City of Boston has been a great disappointment to them. This contract expires in 1923 and its renewal is up to the City Council, Councillor Watson said.

"These robbers have held up the City of Boston for $750,000 per year for each street light, when the average cost in other cities is only about $150 per year. By giving the case to the people there the Department of Public Utilities we secured a 17 per cent. reduction in private consumers, but Boston users of electricity are still paying 50 per cent. more than we ought to."

"Cleveland consumers of electricity now pay three cents per kilowatt-hour for electric current. Boston consumers pay 5 1/2 cents. Think of it. The average price for current in large cities in America where they are served by private concerns, is about 6 cents per kilowatt hour. "Less than two-thirds the Boston price. Of course, where the municipality owns its own lighting plant the average cost is much lower, as in the case of Cleveland."

"Is it anything to wonder at that the people have no faith in the Good Government Association, which is kept alive by contributions from those people who are mulling the city?"

THE Y BRINGS 200 PATHETIC APPEALS TO CHRISTMAS FUND

CHILDREN GIVE SAVINGS AMONG ENTERTAINERS AT FUND BENEFIT

Children are giving freely to the Boston American Christmas Basket Fund, which is to feed thousands of needy men, women and children in their homes on Christmas Day.

The Boston American hopes to feed 50,000 persons in their homes this season at Christmas but the number that will be fed will fall far short of this figure unless contributions come in more rapidly than they have so far.

A large number of young boys and girls have given a portion of their savings so that less fortunate children may have a good dinner at Christmas. Many kiddies emptied their savings banks and sent the money along to the American's Fund Editor.

That there is a great deal of destitution in Greater Boston this winter is proved by the large number of letters being received in every mail. More than 200 letters containing appeals for food were received by the Christmas Fund Editor yesterday.

APPEALS PATHETIC.
As Christmas draws near the letters become more pathetic. Unless the public responds more freely to the appeal for assistance there will be hundreds of families in this city on Christmas Day whose meal will consist of bread and tea.

Mrs. G. D. Williams reports a heavy sale of tickets for the entertainment and dance she will conduct in Alpha Hall, Quincy, on Friday evening, December 15, in aid of the fund. She has arranged one of the most attractive programs ever planned for a party in the Granite City.

Among the entertainers are Fred Douglas and Madeline Bailey, who will give a clever exhibition of a variety of dancing. "Baby" Josephine Leonard of South Boston and "Baby" Eleanor Lee of Medford in an exhibition of ballroom dancing in miniature. Leo Feltz, Selma Harris of Lynn who is known as the Baby Teller, will sing.

Others who will entertain are Fred Davis of Allston, boy soprano soloist of Trinity Church; Miss Ruth Gilman of Dorchester in a singing and dancing number; Joseph Fournier in a "Piano" dance; Mae Carney a singer of "Tostitos" Kelley, a Quincy juvenile favorite in singing and dancing.

First Lewis, widely known on the stage, has been engaged to play for general dancing until midnight, and Mrs. Williams assures friends that they will have an excellent time. The will be the Williams' third annual party in aid of the American's Fund. Both of her previous parties were highly successful and the advance sale of tickets for next week's affair indicates that this season's event will be even more so.

ANOTHER BENEFIT.
Another dancing party in aid of the American's Fund has been arranged for Tuesday evening, December 19, in Ober's Rm. at the Hotel Marlborough. This party will be conducted by the Misses Lucy, Grace, Clara and Alma Hallin, the four lovely daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hallin of No. 15 Whitney park, Melrose.

The Baitin sisters expect a large number of their school friends will attend the party. Frank Ober, Jr., has donated the free use of the Ober's orchestra of Dorchester will contribute their services free. This orchestra is composed of six youths who have already made a decided hit wherever they have played. The boys who comprise the orchestra are: Emanuel L. Le Hany, Samuel Palmer, Harold Linney, Sydney Hambley, William Rossmore and Norman H. Tobin.

Pupils of Miss Kathryn Baines are working hard to make the entertainment and dance in Minto Hall, East Boston, on Thursday evening, December 21, a success. Mr. Baines, manager of the hall, has donated the free use for the party. Miss Baines has arranged with Miss Gladys Langer of Cambridge to give a special exhibition of ice dancing.

The first part of the entertainment will be a playlet entitled "The Night Before Christmas." In the first number six small children will do a pantomime dance, during the course of which they will look for Santa Claus in the chimney. Their quest will be successful, after which Santa Claus will display dolls collected from various countries. Dances representing all the countries from which the dolls came will then be in order. Elsie Rafferty will play the role of Santa Claus, while ten or fifteen other girls will take the part of dolls.

Solo dancing will comprise the second part of the program. The soloists will include Mildred Kenick in a jazz number; Helen Sullivan and Hazel Perkins in exhibition dancing; Gladys Olsen in the "Powder Puff" dance; Claire Miller, Lillian Sloane in a Russian dance; Mildred Gerslein in the "Salon's Horopopo"; Blanche Timmins in the "Comet" waltz; Agnes Driscoll in the "High and Low"; Rita Austin in a waltz; Ruth Higgins and Mary Marley in a "Gavotte"; Grace Mortello in a "Paso"; and Miss Murphy in a waltz.

LAWYERS CONTRIBUTE.
Many Boston lawyers continue to contribute to the fund. Attorney Clarence W. Rowley in sending his contribution wrote: "I herewith enclose check for $5.00 to cover my annual donation for your most worthy charity. I wish I were in a position to make it one hundred times as much, for I feel that the work you do is 100 per cent. efficient, every

ZIEGFELD AFTER SULTAN'S WIVES FOR "FOLLIES"

New York, Dec. 6. (By International News Service).—The 110 stranded wives of the former Sultan of Turkey may still eat with more or less regularity this winter, if they know how to dance.

Ben Harrison, director of Ziegfeld's Follies, admitted today that he had instructed Ziegfeld's Follies office to obtain an accurate estimate of the pockmarked of the barren beauties, who are promised now that the Sultan is reading the want ad, columns with the view of giving them jobs and, incidentally, eats.

"If these girls are as described," Harrison said, "they ought to fit in very nicely right now. The Oriental ladies and the eastern flavor in general has so thoroughly identified itself with the American musical comedy that the Follies next year will be devoted in the major part to just that kind of thing."

The producer indicated that Ziegfeld and the Sultan had something in common in that both picked girls for their beauty, figure and youth.

Error Corrected

MISS MARION V. KANE.

Through an error the picture of Miss Marion V. Kane of No. 8 Backminster street, Alston, a dainty and talented Boston entertainer, was published in the Boston American of December 5, as that of Margaret McGovern, who was sentenced to the Bedford, N. Y., reformatory for the theft of a fur coat.

Miss Kane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kane of Montello. She was graduated from the Roxbury High School in 1917 and is now employed by a Boston business firm. She is in great demand as an entertainer at clubs, parties and charitable affairs.

MAYOR'S "OWN HOBBIES" VISIT CITY LODGING

Chester Macomber, clerk to Mayor Curley's office, is just as busy as a clerk in such a job should be. He is Herbert Sexton and Dan Leonard of the city employment bureau. But you never would have known them when they applied in succession for a night's shelter at Weymouth Lodge, a municipal institution, in Hawking street, West End. They were doing a "gumshu" for Mayor Curley, who wished to satisfy himself that the lodge is being kept right up to standard. The detective trio was on the job Saturday night and filed reports to-day.

They found the lodge generally clean and the attendants well-mannered. They declared, however, that the water was hardly warm and that the only cake of soap furnished was a finger-and-silver set soap rack. Macomber said he was told that the next time he applied after a room on a Saturday night he would not get in because applicants were expected to do two hours on the woodenly in payment for lodging and breakfast.

Curley it was made that only on blankets was provided the lodgers and that at the Sunday breakfast the animal was the food stand in the coffee room. Mayor Curley's room ends the lodge outbreak hereafter he would find coffee improved and new blankets on hand.

USE MENTHO-LAXENE

and cold in short order. Every devoted mother will surely be happy to know that she can make this fine cough syrup at small expense and with few minutes of her time. Loving mothers watch "coughs" and "colds" and are often anxious and dangerous! If a cold is allowed to go on it usually leads to the down of the system and opens the way for chronic catarrhs, pneumonia and many other serious diseases. Intelligent mothers fear to give cough and cold medicines containing chloroform and narcotics. Menth-o-laxene is pure and free from chloroform and narcotics. Such valuable medicines as Mentho-laxene, Cough Syrup, Tolu, etc., are blends in essence Menth-o-laxene, such a way as to make a quickly effective treatment for old and young. It is so inexpensive that a full pint can be made at a cost of about 75 cts. or less. Just ask leading druggists for a bottle of Bickford's Essence Menth-o-laxene. Plain, easy directions make the use of the medicine with each bottle. There is no safer, better protection for the whole family than used in the past. BARES BRITISH PROPAGANDA IN AMERICA

By Cosmopolitan News Service. Baltimore, Dec. 6.—The trail of British propaganda against the subsidy bill today reaches across the ocean into the very heart of America. Edward C. Plummer, United States Shipping Board Commissioner, returned here from his speech to the Traffic Board.

The far-flung activities of Great Britain's interests arrayed against the measure was exposed when he quoted an English commercial paper, as advocating "encouraging the pro-British party in the United States"—obviously referring to the forces opposing the subsidy.

Mr. Plummer sounded a call to Americans to get behind the measure.

"When the Liverpool Courier states the general attitude of Great Britain, both officially and in its trading units, must be such that the pro-British party in the States is encouraged; when the Edinburgh Review says 'we shall do well by strengthening the hands of those who are fighting for our principle,' then the same writer is seriously disturbed because this bill will give the United States a second line of defense. It's about time for Americans to wake up and realize American ships are essential to the well-being of the country," Mr. Plummer said.

He denied any effort was being made, as English sources claimed, to increase Great Britain's shipping by increasing our own. America's aim is not a sea monopoly, but an ocean-going fleet able to handle the traffic of our own business as it will have a fair chance, he said.

SYMPHONY CONCERT FOR GERICK FUND

Boston's loyalty to a former conductor of the Symphony Orchestra was manifested when the present orchestra, under the direction of Pierre Monteux, gave a concert, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to relieving the distress of William Gerick, who is in present imprisonment in Vienna. Up to last night the proceeds were $12,154, with contributions coming in with every mail. Mr. Monteux had arranged a program which was pleasing to the majority of the listeners. Among the numbers was the Brahms waltzes for orchestra, arranged by William Gerick.

BROADCAST CONCERT OF AMPHION CLUB

The entire program given by the Amphion Club of Melrose in Memorial Hall tomorrow evening will be broadcast by the Shepard Store radio station. The Amphion club consists of seventy-five voices, and they will be assisted by a soprano soloist and a pianist. A special program from the Hall will carry the music to the subscribers' homes. The broadcast, a recital by the Amphion Association on December 12, will be given by the Central Station on December 13, will be broadcast.

SURELY LOVE WILL DISCOVER A WAY

George Lee came from Winchester's get married. He did. He "got" some clothes from various "rooms" in the South End. They were sold. So George appeared in Municipal Court to answer charges of larceny. He was given a year, but the sentence was suspended so he could care for his bride and make arrangements. George wore a necktie, stand-up collar and large white tie in court.

MURDER SUSPECT IS HELD AS DESERTER

Whitman, Dec. 6.—Eugene Poulton, arrested here last Thursday as a fugitive from justice at Middlebury, N. J., where he is said to have been wanted for the murder on May 3 of J. K. Fox, was taken to Boston for delivery to army authorities as a deserter today. Poulton was formerly stationed at Camp Dix.

PELLITTER OFF URGES NEW R. R. BOARD FOR INQUEST OF HEALTH

Joseph C. Pellitteri, dependent district attorney for Suffolk county, has today urged the creation of a new railroad board for the purpose of investigating the health of the state's railroads.

He said that the health of the state's railroads is a matter of great importance to the people of this state, and that it is the duty of the government to see that the railroads are kept in good health.

WEEK OF WEALTH IS OVER

West Roxbury Honeymooner, Held for Bad Checks, Released on $750 Bail

With their one week's taste of the life of a millionaire relegated to the past, George E. Perlot, West Roxbury electrician, and his bride of eight weeks left the honeymoon together today to make up a more inexpensive existence.

Perlot was released on $750 bail, when the charge of forging a check for $500 was continued for one week.

Perlot's arrest ended seven days of his honeymoon at a downtown hotel and featured by social clubs and dancing parties, and a life of ease and wealth.

ENDS LIFE BARTLETT DENYING A GUN HE SLEW BROTHERS

New Hampshire Man Shoots
Self When Quizzed in Double Murder Mystery

Orford, N. H., Dec. 6.— Protestations of innocence of the double murder of John and Charles Davis, woodmen, disclosed the motive that drove Fred Boddell, 55, wealthy lumber merchant, to kill himself by firing a bullet into his head today.

Boddell, a neighbor of the slain brothers, placed a pistol in his mouth and pulled the trigger. As he lay dying in a home he asserted that he was innocent of the murder of the two brothers.

Farrell testified in the trial which opened today, that Bartlett went to his garage at No. 411 Bowdoin street, Dorchester, at noon and the small was killed. He said he was in search of a salesman of drug articles and engaged a car.

By CHARLES E. BRICKLEY.

New York, Dec. 6.—The selection of Buell of quarterback on my first All-Eastern team may cause some comment, but possibly I have a different idea of just what a quarterback is on a team for than the average writer. In my opinion, the most important work that a quarterback does is to select the proper plays and run his offense correctly. Buell does this better than any quarterback I have seen for years. Other quarterbacks may be more flashy and better running with the ball, etc., but Buell uses his brains more than any quarterback in the game today, in my opinion.

Of the other backs, I don't see how either Owen or Kaw could be kept off my Eastern all-star selection. Both of these men can kick, run, pass, are great offensive players and great against forward passes. Kaw being in this respect the best man I saw a action all year. Jordan was a great line plunger, and teamed up with Kaw and Owen, would be even better.

AMATEURS CLASH AT ST. JOSEPH'S

During the lull in professional boxing ranks, the amateur boys will get back into the spotlight "by day" night at Commercial Hall, Lowell, Mass., when the St. Joseph's T. A. S. will conduct their regular tournament.

Competitions will be held in five classes. They will include the 105, 115, 125, 135, and 145 pound classes. There is really not much to choose between the second and third teams, and in fact, practically any of these boys could put up a good fight in a machine which would function properly in any of the classes.

Connie Mack Gets Reckless and Bids $75,000

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—Word was received in this city that Connie Mack, manager of the White Elephants, has gone into the buying business. At the meeting of the minors, in Louisville, Mack put in a bid of $15,000 for Sam Hale, the Portland, Oregon, fielder, who has a remarkable average.

Mack will not pay all cash for him. He will give several players and a substantial sum for the Coast star.

Grappler Anxious to Stop Dempsey

George Kotsanos, the wrestler, shows with boxer Larry Silva, how he would best Dempsey. By going for Jack's lower leg he would avoid all chances of a knockout blow. Then by falling away he would get a kick on the ring champion and knock him flat.

Says NICK Flatley: Bat Siki May Have Been Framed; But He's Hopped Right Out of Picture

ANOTHER KNOCKOUT
BAT SIKI is original cuckoo. Brown said for winning fight, he was in new field for all lines of endeavor.

Fireman, after saving him from flames, can apologize and name it into water, premier. Cuckoo was in the picture, but he wasn't in his own sense.

Chaffeur, after whacking a walker, likely to say he didn't have the brakes. Could have a car, but he was in the picture, but he wasn't in his own sense.

Wife finding hubby with strange chicken may blame loss of car due for hitting in on wrong date. Yes, she may.

Baseball owner who sells wars will tell fans he did it from team photographs, will show list of names under it. Right names on checks received, though.

Football expert could blame criticism of "all" from on last year's voting list, and will tell deep technical stuff topographical errors.

Black Bat may have been framed, but it's a catch he's out of the picture now.

President HENDERSON says Johnson's Chicago meeting isn't a slap at Leland Mayne, either, but it's a slap for him, either.

FABER IN FRONT BIG RECEPTION OF HUBERS AGAIN

Urban Faber, veteran pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, led the sharp shooter of his league for the second successive season, an average effectiveness. He stepped into a game, tossed 31 complete innings, and won 21 games, and lost 10. He was named as the best pitcher in the league.

Warren Collins, who led the Boston Red Sox, pitched an all-out effort, winning 21 games, and losing 10. He was named as the best pitcher in the league.

Quinn, Fenwick and Ferguson were the other stars who managed to get into the list of pitchers who worked ten or more complete games during the campaign.

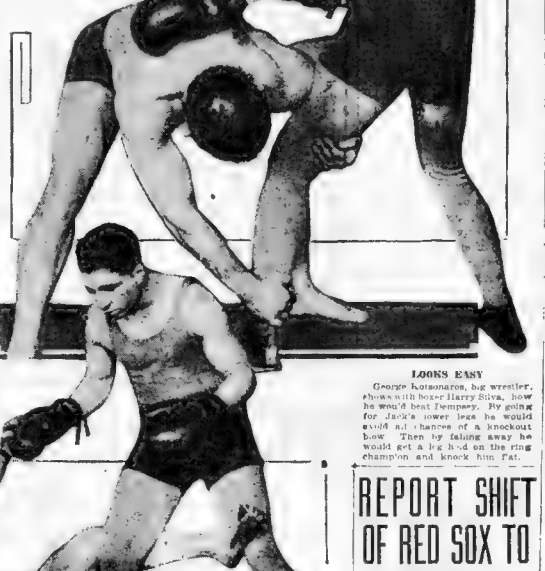

Following is the list of 10 hurlers who worked in at least ten games during the season.

Medbury Says There Are 464 Ways of Suicide, but One Is Enough

By John P. Medbury

A NEW YORK health official has discovered 464 ways of committing suicide. Some of them are so simple and pleasant that a person feels ashamed of being alive.

YOU can find any reason for living, but you can think of lots of excuses for being dead.

THE beauty in knowing 464 ways of committing suicide is that after you've tried one of them you've still got 463 left.

ONE guy tried them all and he's still alive. He's waiting for the health officer to think of some more ways.

OF course, he can't guarantee all his methods. He makes them up and lets somebody else try them.

WHILE he hasn't got any testimonials from his customers, the ordinary citizen's best recommendation.

HOWEVER this is just a side line with him. He doesn't make his living by thinking of ways of dying.

A lot of doctors, who read the long list are so non-committal that they're to make up a way of their own.

THEIR own way usually fails because it takes an experienced man to commit suicide.

PRACTICE makes perfect provided somebody else does the practicing for you.

THE only trouble with committing suicide is that it's so easy.

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Jokes," Boston American. Mrs. Smith overheard this conversation the other day between her new Swedish cook and her friend next door.

"Hello, Linda, and how to you like your job?"

"Like it fine. We have created cellar, electric lights and a hoost!"

"A hoost! What kind of a thing is that," asked her friend. "Oh, a bell rings and you say hello, and then somebody says 'Hoost!'"

THE HICK IN BOSTON

By NELSON DENTON.

THE hick is a pessimistic sort of soul. He comes to town to get frowed, and if he isn't he returns back home and runs the town down as a fraud because it didn't live up to his reputation.

He enters a Washington street restaurant, pays a two-dollar cover charge, and then keeps the place a secret from the folks back home. He thinks they soaked him two bucks to keep his visit under cover.

Some one asked him if he had seen Bumpkin Island and he thought they were giving him.

A friend took him down to the Corn market, where business is transacted in the sun languish. He thought it was taking up the number of books he rode.

He thought Mary (Garden) was a perfume and when he was invited to hear her sing said he wouldn't be a joke.

He took a ride in a taxicab and enjoyed watching the motorist. He thought it was taking up the number of books he rode.

He thought Mary (Garden) was a perfume and when he was invited to hear her sing said he wouldn't be a joke.

successful you yourself never have the satisfaction of knowing it.

ALL you know is that you're not here any longer and you don't even know that.

YOUR friends know that you aren't, but you don't know that you're not.

IT'S against the law to kill yourself, but you don't have to take a policeman's word with you when you do it.

ONE day, I saw a man in a suit and tie, sitting at a table in a restaurant, looking at a menu.

BUT it's different in one respect. If you're dependent you don't have to wait until Saturday night.

THEIR health officer is going to have his 464 recipes published. While it won't be a very safe volume to have around the house, a lot of cook books are just as dangerous.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

Prices in this country are rising. This means that the cost of living is going up. Will prices continue to advance? Or, are we entering a long period of declining prices?

Save Babylon: "Ever since 1913 we have been trading with a rising market. With the beginning of 1919 the country may have started upon a twenty-five year period to be marked by practically opposite conditions. We have had a long time to time, as we go on, period like the summer of 1922, when the cost of prices seemed to be upward. We must not be deceived by such transitory symptoms; they are but eddies in the main stream."

John Moody, another well-known student of business trends, predicted the other day, before the Chicago Association of Commerce, that a reaction from the present upward swing in business was not many months ahead, and that this will be accompanied by a decline in prices.

Colonel Leonard Ayers, of the Cleveland Trust Company, a widely known business statistician, predicts that during the next decade the tendency of prices will be downward, though he believes that the present upward trend may continue through out most of 1923.

Barlow & Person, managing director of the Taylor Society, deems "Practical" all of the men who enter the business world in the forty-fifth year. In business, they entered upon their careers during the period of rising prices, dating from about 1897 to 1920. Men who entered business during this period, he says, are not so much interested in the future as the older men and were carried up. Now the escalator has stopped.

The rise of 16 per cent in the last seventeen months is quite a consideration, in fact, for the man who has been in business since 1897. Is this rise likely to continue? Two have repeatedly asked me to answer that question.

Not only do I not pretend to know, but the outlook is not so many as and so susceptible to change that I don't feel like making as dogmatic opinions as some of my followers do.

Let me explain why. The course of prices in this country for the last six months, says, is the result of many factors, but the most important of these are the following:

What happens elsewhere in the world, especially Europe. The extent to which security of labor, already being felt, goes into a country's production and its export.

The treatment accorded the railroads. Much of our recent financial activity has been in connection with the railroads, and the treatment accorded them, especially in the matter of equipment, etc., by the railroads, and should they become seriously alarmed over the rate of reduction, and stop buying or can continue to do so, upon both ways and prices would be considerable.

The extent or magnitude of the building boom. The latter is more probable than the former, in view of high costs.

The outlook in the Spring for next year.

And perhaps most important of all, how the men and file of consumers take to the making up of prices.

I know how Congress will be. I would have a much more of the view of the men who are in business and prices.
